

Blended 2.0: Activating Shared Responsibility and Student Voice in the LMS

Anthony Perrotta and Nelio Frietas, Toronto Catholic District School Board

Abstract: Forget the tech—it is time to reimagine the online student experience and build and sustain a blending learning space that provides students with a truly enriched experience that promotes shared responsibility and recognizes who they are as individuals and learners. This workshop will provide participants with the opportunity to actively participate in a dialogue about new blended practice and the importance of activating sharing responsibility and student voice through online learning and the tools available with the Brightspace platform.
