
D1S39: Student Voices: Extending and Enhancing the LMS

With a focus on 21st Century teaching and learning and the intentional goal to embed creative student voices into the classroom, online learning can play a vital role in showcasing, curating and demonstrating meaning and understanding that is creative, thought provoking and meaningful. With the goal to enhance the full credit or blended environment, the LMS must be leveraged to all students to “show what they know” and share their critical voice through discussions, creative work, blogs and external web applications. This workshop will provide teachers with an overview of an “enhanced” learning environment and active understanding of how to achieve and moderate student voice online.

Intended Audience: All Teachers

Experience Level: Beginner

Presenter(s): Anthony Perrotta

Room: South Studio 3